What is a MDT?

The Urology cancer multidisciplinary team consists of a team of doctors, nurses and other healthcare professionals who are all experienced in caring for patients who have Urology cancer.

The main function of the team is to make the diagnosis of Urology cancer. This involves various tests and investigations. Once a diagnosis has been reached the team will decide how your particular case would be best treated.

The decision will be discussed in detail with you to ensure you are happy with your planned treatment. You and your carers will be given the opportunity to ask any questions you may have.

You will be offered a written record of your consultation with the doctor and you will be assigned a named Key worker who will be responsible for coordinating your care.

Local MDT

Members of the team you will be most likely to have contact with are the consultant Urologists / surgeon, consultant oncologist (cancer specialist), radiologists and Urology cancer specialist nurse (see reverse for details).

You may have access to these people by contacting your key worker, who will either arrange an appointment for you or help to answer the particular question or concern you may have.
