You Said...

“Freebies – more work perk, gems at work”

“more freebies”

“More promotions or freebies”

“Freebies sent to Selby hospital”

“We used to love getting freebies in the office that were sent in by various companies. More of those please”

...We Did

Staff Benefits are signed up to two popular ‘freebie’ providers, who offer us free product samples in exchange for reviews from our staff. There are a few reasons freebies haven’t been seen as often as they used to, here’s why:

Reviews - The more reviews our staff give, the more freebies we get offered. Unfortunately, for the last few campaigns we received, not many users gave reviews, resulting in recent offerings being few and far between.

Workforce – Due to the size of our work force it is often hard for us to secure enough freebies to go around, as we are governed by the companies sending the samples about how they can distributed.

There's never enough – As we know, there's almost always never enough to go around, especially when being sent to our smaller/ community sites, leaving a large portion of our staff feeling left out.
